

Spinning

Believe the truth or feed the lie, that's the choice that I've been given this morning
The battle's on, I must decide which one gets the best of my attention

Try to clear my mind, lift my voice and cry, as I wrestle with emotion
Then You lift my gaze as I start to praise, I see eyes full of affection

*And Your love breaks in, reminds me of the truth within
And Your grace floods in, gives me wings and I soar again
Here we go, here we go*

Welcomed in, accepted child, that's the way that I am seen this morning
Righteousness through Jesus blood, I can come because of His perfection

Put my feelings aside and enjoy Your delight, as I step into Your favour
There is no condemnation, there's no separation for those in Christ Jesus

Spinning around, Your grace sends me and my heart it overflows
Spinning around, free to join now in Your dance of endless love

Oh Your grace seems so offensive to my sense
But You call me to surrender and worship
